Cristophe Nambotin got his first victory in this Season of the Enduro World Championship in Fafe (Portugal)

The GAS GAS rider Cristophe Nambotin got his first victory in the second test of this World Championship, which took place in Fafe (Portugal) last weekend.

Last Saturday, this French rider had to compete roughly with David Knight to get the first place. Knight got to the last Special round with six seconds ahead. However, Nambotin did his best and he finally beat his main rival in the Enduro3 category.

The test had already had an excellent beginning for the GAS GAS riders since Robert Kavarnström and Yannick Bossi got excellent results at the Super Test held last Friday, right before it started to rain. They ended up second and third respectively in the Junior and Scratch categories. Now let's talk about the other GasGas riders who took part in the competition last Saturday. The Brazilian rider Felipe Zanol ended up 13th at the Enduro3; while Cedric Melotte got 12th and Jordi Figueras 14th at Enduro2. Robert Kavarnström had to leave the race due to a fall. Yannick Bossi managed to get to the 8th position, even though he ran with an injured hand.

Last Sunday, Cristophe Nambotin got third place. He fought to get the victory from the very beginning; and even though he tried to correct some mistakes at the very end of the test, this French rider was not able to repeat what he had done the previous day at Enduro3. Felipe Zanol got the 13th position one more time in this same category. Regarding the Enduro2, Jordi Figueras ended up 16th and Cedric Melotte was not able to complete the test.

This second day was not so good for the Junior riders, since Robert Kavärnstrom was not able to be part of it due to the fall he had suffered the day before; and Yannick Bossi could not make it to the Finish. Next weekend the Enduro national championships will begin in France and Spain.
